

Issue 6 | November 2018

As we approach the end of 2018, we've been looking back on some huge milestones in our refinery expansion projects. In April we completed the heavy lift of our new lubes reactor in Singapore and in June we announced a further proposed expansion there. When our Rotterdam expansion comes online late this year, we will offer the first large-scale Group II production in Europe and the largest Group I and Group II production globally.

Next year promises to be just as exciting. 2019 will see the introduction of our new EHC™ 120 heavy neutral base stock in the Americas, Europe, Africa and the Middle East. In Singapore, we'll offer enhanced quality EHC™ 50 and EHC™ 110 base stocks to lubricant innovators. We'll also open a new hub terminal in Valencia, Spain, further enhancing our already robust global supply network.

In the spotlight

In the latest installments of our video series, which offers behind-the-scenes insights on the Rotterdam refinery expansion project, Robbert Roozendaal – startup manager, Rotterdam expansion project – discusses the new EHC 120 product, and Pascal de Bast Thiers – business venture manager – talks about the excitement of delivering the project on time, on spec and on quality.
