ExxonMobil's response to COVID-19

While continuing to meet global energy demand, ExxonMobil is also helping to meet the needs of health care professionals fighting the COVID-19 pandemic. We've maximized production of the high-performance polymers used to make face masks, surgical gowns and other critical medical supplies, and we're also delivering isopropyl alcohol to areas most in need of medical hand sanitizers, alcohol wipes and disinfectant sprays. Get more details on the Energy Factor blog.
