

Hetherington Company (Mobil Oil Company agents) tank truck delivering Mobilgard 593 to M/S Francesco Morosini at Houston, Texas. The Mobil Lubricated vessel is owned by Società Italiana di Armamento "SIDARMA" of Venice.

"ON DECK" AT HOUSTON Houston, Texas is another link in the vast world-wide chain of ports where Mobil's unique and international Marine Service Program operates. For a great many years, Mobil Oil Company (and its predecessor, Magnolia Petroleum Company) has provided ships calling at the port with the world's finest marine service.

- On deck is an experienced marine representative from the Hetherington Company, Mobil's agents for the port. Every ship taking advantage of Mobil's "correct marine lubrication program" will find him ready to assist in every way possible. He provides the kind of service that has been bringing benefits to vessel owners for almost 100 years.

- A full line of specially-engineered, top-quality Mobil marine lubricants are available.
- Ships needing bunkers can take advantage of Mobil's international bunkering service.

Mobil is extremely proud of the part it plays in serving the merchant fleets of the world with fuels, lubricants, and a renowned engineering service. Mobil too is dedicated toward keeping its products and services consistent with the ever-changing pattern of deep-sea requirements. That is why we say . . . depend on Mobil's world-wide program of specialized marine service.

CONTENTS

HOUSTON, TEXAS, U.S.A., A daring venture that has far surpassed its founders' dreams. Photos courtesy of Houston Port Authority	1
THE JOHN WILLIAMS VII, Proud successor to Messenger of Peace is the seventh ship to immortalize a great servant of man.	7
THE SOPHOCLES	10
THE COAST OF LONELINESS, Southwest Africa's desolate Kaokoveld earned the name mariners gave it—The Skeleton Coast.	12
VITUS BERING AND HIS SEA, An intrepid Dane, a Captain-Commander in the Czar's navy, and the sea he discovered. All illustrations unless otherwise noted are from the New York Public Library Picture Collection	17
ADJØ GODE VENN, (Goodbye Good Friend)	21

THE WORLD'S FINEST
MARINE
SERVICE

The Compass May-June, 1964

A Magazine of the Sea, Volume XXXIV, Number 3

K. V. W. Lawrence, Editor.

Published bi-monthly by Socony Mobil Oil Co., Inc.
Socony Mobil Building, 150 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.
A. L. Nickerson, Chairman of the Board; H. Willeits, President; A. M. Sherwood, Secretary; E. P. Fischer, Treasurer.

Designed by Lucci and Rodegast & Associates.

Printed in England by The Haycock Press Ltd., 1964.

Photo courtesy Houston Port Authority.

Cover picture: Houston from the air looking northwest. Note the splendid highway system leading from downtown to suburban areas and beyond.